

4 Weekend German Course

Description

This intensive Weekend German Language Course helps you to reach your targeted German language level within only 4 weekends. An intensive input combined with homework and self study makes it possible to complete the relevant contents of each level within a month. Weekend German Language Courses take place once per week on Saturdays, always from 10 am to 2.30 pm, with a 20 minutes in between.

How can we cover a whole level in only 4 Saturdays?

A typical Weekend German Language Course follows 5 compact steps:

- #1 Warm-up and clarification of all questions
- #2 Compact explanation of grammar point(s) in a relevant context
- #3 Controlled practice of new grammar point(s) and new vocabulary
- #4 Free practice of new grammar point(s) and new vocabulary
- #5 Homework and checking your solutions with your answer key

One Saturday session lasts 5 teaching units. In each session you will cover at least 3 new grammar points and a rich collection of vocabulary. After the introduction you will practice the new grammar point and the new vocabulary written and spoken. During the week, you complete several homework tasks related to the content you covered in class, and you also receive the answer key so that no time is spent in class with checking the answers. You always do have, however, sufficient time to clarify any questions at the beginning of each session. Each week you have to allocate approximately 8 hours for completing all homework tasks. So with 20 UE contact time and 32 UE home study, you have enough time to thoroughly study a complete level in only one month.

What are the course groups like?

German learners love our small group sizes, our individual support and our highly qualified and friendly teachers. Weekend German Language Courses have on average 3-5 participants, allowing for an engaging, personalized and successful German learning journey. Studying at INNES also means being part of an international community of ambitious, multilingual learners. The Weekend courses are particularly suitable for working professionals, who have no time during the week to participate in a course. The coursebook and all supplemental materials are included in the course fee.

Your quality assurance

At INNES, quality and professionalism matter. We work exclusively with qualified and passionate teachers, first-class materials and dynamic and engaging methods so that you can learn German in a personalized way. All teachers are using communication-oriented and interactive methods that allow students to be constantly active and experiment with new language. Our teachers will create regular progress tests for you, in order to guarantee your learning progress.

Course materials

In your Weekend German Language Course you will learn German by using a coursebook and a variety of specially selected supplemental materials. For A1-B1 courses you work with the coursebook Menschen, and from B2 onwards with the coursebook Aspekte Neu. Coursebook and all supplemental materials are included in the course fee.
